

AS4586:2013 SLIP RESISTANCE CLASSIFICATION

The attached slip resistance results are to be considered as a guide only for that specific product range and remains a general indication of slip resistance for use in aiding the customer in selecting a group of tiles that meet the requirements of a specific individual project. As a tile's characteristic may slightly alter with each batch produced it is strongly recommended that the actual batch to be laid in the project be retested by the customer to ensure it meets the slip resistance criteria of the specifier.
